

Werner Heister/Dieter Wälte/Dagmar Weßler-Poßberg/Margret Finke
Studying with Success: Mastering the Examination Situation
Tests, colloquia, presentations, employment interviews
211 pp., paperback, two colours
EUR 12.95
ISBN 978-3-7910-2675-6
2007

Studying

The path from the beginning of your studies to your dream job is paved with tests, homework assignments, and examinations. But if you can meet and beat these challenges, you have already mastered the toughest hurdles. This series of guides shows students what is really important in their studies and as they move into professional life.

Have no fear of exams! Tests and colloquia are opportunities to show what you are capable of. The key to success is the right motivation. If you want to shine in oral examinations, you must be extremely well prepared. The authors show how to accomplish this. Job interviews and assessment centre sessions are similar to exam situations. This guide helps students leave a good impression on these occasions as well.

About the Authors:

Dr. Werner Heister, Professor of Business Administration in the Social Sector; Dr. Dieter Wälte, Professor for Clinical Psychology and Personality Psychology; Dagmar Weßler-Poßberg, faculty member in the School of Social Sciences – all of them at the Niederrhein Mönchengladbach University; Margret Finke, personnel director at a hospital.

Intended Audience:

Students

Key Features:

- Straightforward approach
- Clear organisation
- Written in a relaxed manner
- Be well prepared for exams
- Present yourself with confidence & convey your ideas convincingly